The AgrochemBIZ Show – Latin America 2019

Dear Sir,

On behalf of Manufacturers and Traders League of Agrochemical (MTLA), I cordially invite you to come and join us in 2019 AgrochemBIZ Show-Latin America, which will be held during May 20-21, 2019 in Hilton Mexico City Reforma, Mexico City, MEXICO.

Latin America boasts a long history of agricultural production. Latin American countries are major producers of traditional crops such as corn, wheat, rice and soybeans. The production of cash crops such as sugar cane, coffee, cocoa and bananas takes a large part in the world and agrochemicals play a critical role in the harvest of these crops. In view of that, we plan to host "2019 AgrochemBIZ Show-Latin America" in Mexico City on May 20-21, 2019. We hope that agrochemicals manufacturing and trading companies from China and India can get to know more Latin American traders through this opportunity.

Topic

The year of 2018 has witnessed a dramatic change to the global agrochemicals market. Most of the products on the market were in shortages and out of stock to various degrees. Product prices have been rising all the time, but the amount of goods actually sold in the market is very small. It is obvious that prices of agrochemical products have been speculated. So what happened and what will we see in 2019? We may find answers to these questions in this meeting.
